The New Era.

Newmarket, Friday March 5, 1858.

General Summary.

From the Toronto papers we learn that the steamer Peerless, is to resume her old route between Toronto and Niagara next week.

The Pacific Hotel at St. Louis, caught fire on the 20th ult., and was burned to the ground—but painful to relate, eighteen persons perished in the flames; thirteen were killed and others severely injured jumping from windows.

Campbell's Paintings of the Bottle was exhibited in the Union S. S. Room on Monday evening last, to a large and delighted audience. All things considered, the proprietor deserves considerable credit for the manner in which he has executed his painting.

Dr. Ford's new Steam Grist Mill, is now in successful operation. Competent judges say—the machinery is more compact and the arrangement better, than in the Building destroyed by fire. A more general description will be given when we get able to inspect for ourselves.

We are requested to announce that a General Meeting of the Mechanics' Institute will be held on Monday evening next; as well as of considerable import affecting the Institute will be brought up for consideration, a full audience of members is requested. S. Fairing, A. M., will Lecture this (Friday) evening. Subject—Chemical connections of the three Kingdoms of Nature.

The Globe of Monday gives the following account of an accident to the Desjardins Bridge:—“At an early hour on Saturday morning, shortly after the mail Train going West from Hamilton had passed over the Desjardins Bridge, it was discovered that three of the main beams upon which the rails are laid had caught fire, and were partly consumed. The fire is attributed to sparks falling from the locomotive, into some cracks in the centre beam, but how it communicated to the other beams has not been ascertained.” The damage is being actively repaired.

Opening of Parliament.

The recently elected parliament met on February, the 25th ultimo, and as a first act chose Mr. Henry Smith, M. P. P. for Frontenac, and late Solicitor General West, Speaker. If the character of the House is to be judged of by the head we very much fear the late appeal to the people has not at all improved the chances for good legislation or for a better administration of the affairs of the Province. Our readers cannot have forgotten the disgraceful scenes of the last two sessions in which this same Mr. Smith, figured also prominently as the bally of the government.

His conduct in abetting Mr. Attorney General Macdonald's brutal attack on Mr. Brown in regard to the Penitentiary Report, more nearly approached the ruffianism of modern days in the United States Congress than any thing ever witnessed in the halls of a Canadian Legislature, and very justly at that time, brought him under the censure of the chair—in that chair which he now occupies!

There can be but little doubt as to the reason why he was selected by the Government as their candidate for the Speakership. Whether in opposition, or in the support of the Administration he has always been ready, to do whatever might be required aside from argument, to enforce his party views—in plain English, for the dirty work of his party no one was found more ready.

The seats of several members of the Government and of many of their supporters are contested. Rumor says the evidence already taken and to be taken in the matter of these contests, if fairly acted upon will send several of these gentlemen home, and either leave in their places men who will strengthen Her Majesty's Opposition, or give the people another opportunity of settling the dispute in question. Under the Statute for the trial of controverted elections, the Speaker has the power of naming the General Committee of Elections whose duty it will be to appoint all select election committees. A Speaker who cares more for the interests of his party than for the rights of the people, could by an improper exercise of his power in naming that General Committee, do much to prevent a just decision upon any or all of these cases which will come before the House. We do not think we can be called uncharitable in making these suggestions. Nor are we left without proof in the case.

On Tuesday the 2nd inst., one of the first of these contested election cases was brought under the notice of the House by a petition complaining that the member returned, and whose election is alleged to have been illegal, evaded the service of a notice of protest by absenting himself from the County until the time for serving such notice had passed, and that then the County Judge who was applied to for that purpose refused to hear any evidence affecting the case, or even to forward the papers to the officers of the House, thus preventing any inquiry in the regular way. The petitioners only sought a hearing. A motion was made by the Hon. John H. Macdonald to receive the petition at once and order that it be printed for the use of members. This did not suit the Government as the sitting member complained of is one of their supporters and they opposed it calling to their aid a rule of the House which requires two days to elapse between the presentation of a petition and an order for its reception and printing. A motion was made to suspend the Rule—on this motion Ministers found they were likely to be beaten—they appealed to their friend the Speaker who promptly came to their rescue by deciding that no such motion could be put so far as possible stalling investigation. While we think there can be no doubt why a Speaker was nominated by the Government—we are not yet persuaded that the House will long approve of such a course.

Indeed the strong indications of a vote adverse to the Ministry, on case referred to, had not been dodged by a subterfuge unworthy of a good cause, give good evidence of a disposition on the part of the House to afford something like justice. No doubt Ministers will do all they can without regard to what is right to sustain themselves—but we do not despair of seeing them, even with their large Lower Canada majority at their back brought to complete standstill. But it may be soon—very soon—should be the earnest desire of every honest man.

Coroners' Inquests.

We wish it distinctly to be understood that we have no quarrel with those very necessary investigations called Coroners' Inquests, as we are well aware that it is very just for the security of life and the removal of false impressions and unkind suspicions, that on all proper occasions inquiries should be made as to the cause of death.

ARTICLE II.—The said Society shall hold their Annual Meetings in accordance with the Act of Parliament and shall at such Meetings elect a President, First Vice President, and Second Vice President, a Secretary and Treasurer, and not more than seven Directors, who shall have full power to vote at all Meetings of the Society.

ARTICLE III.—The Meetings of the Officers and Directors shall be held pursuant to adjournment, or called by written notice to and given by authority of the President, or in his absence the First Vice President, and Second Vice President, then by order of the Second Vice President, at least one week before the day appointed, and at any Meeting five shall be a quorum.

ARTICLE IV.—All Meetings of the Society, whether the same be either the Annual Meetings, Meetings of the Directors, or Special General Meetings, this does not include the Annual Exhibitions of the Society, shall be held in an central place in the North Riding of York as the person calling the Meeting can select.

ARTICLE V.—The Exhibition of the Society shall be held wherever the majority of the Directors or a quorum thereof shall think fit. And it shall be lawful for the Society, joint with their son in hereditary epithets of contempt at you, well calculated to intimidate and discourage, were your principles of the milk-and-water kind.

ARTICLE VI.—The Board of Directors shall have the power to fill all vacancies in the offices of the Society, and the person or persons thus appointed shall hold office until the next Annual Meeting.

ARTICLE VII.—The Treasurer shall take charge of all monies belonging to this Society or deposited in his hands by the Township or Branch Societies, giving Security to the amount of £500, and two Sums of £250 each for the same, and expand the same only by direction of the Board of Directors, the premises of the Society being paid by order of the Secretary. He shall keep a correct account of all receipts and expenditures, which account shall be, at all reasonable times, open to the inspection of the officers, and Directors of the Society, and shall make a report at each annual Meeting of the Society of the state of the funds and at such other times as may be required by the Directors.

ARTICLE VIII.—That their shall be two general Meetings of the Society in each year [besides the annual meeting] at such time and place as the Directors may appoint.

ARTICLE IX.—That the offices of President and Vice Presidents of this Society, shall not be tenable by the same individual for more than one year in succession under any circumstances.

ARTICLE X.—That no person shall receive more than one premium for the same sample of grain, vegetables, or seeds, or for any article, whether exhibited in more than one parcel or not. Provided that if the judges should judge any two parcels of grain, vegetables, or seeds, to be the same parcel, they shall be required to examine the parties in reference thereto.

ARTICLE XI.—That in case any article or animal exhibited shall be the only one entered in such class it shall be the duty of the Judges to award to such the first prize in that class, if considered worthy of a premium. If their be two entered and exhibited the second best shall receive the second prize, and if there are three entered and exhibited the third prize shall also be awarded in like manner.

ARTICLE XII.—That no animal be exhibited in more than one class.

ARTICLE XIII.—That no article or implement of manufacture shall be entitled to any premium unless it be either the invention or manufacture of the person exhibiting it.

ARTICLE XIV.—That no grain, vegetables, or seeds shall be entitled to any premium unless raised by the exhibitor and the produce of the same year in which it is exhibited except clover, turnip, or other vegetable seed which may be the growth of the preceding year.

ARTICLE XV.—That any animal or article of manufacture having received the first prize for two consecutive years, shall be ineligible for competition for the two succeeding years.

ARTICLE XVI.—That all animals entered for competition must be the bona fide property of the person so exhibiting the same.

ARTICLE XVII.—That in case any party shall feel aggrieved by the decision of the Judges or officers of the Society he shall refer his complaint to the President, or in his absence to the first vice President, or to the second vice President, in the absence of both Presidents, and First Vice President, whose duty it shall be to enquire into the same and if such party have cause of complaint, to cause justice to be done in the premises according to the constitution and Laws of this Society.

ARTICLE XVIII.—That in the event of the funds of the Society being united with the funds of a Township Society by mutual agreement between the two for the purpose of holding a joint show, that the Constitution and Laws of this Society shall be the sole guide and rule to be acted upon during such exhibition.

ARTICLE XIX.—That the annual subscription to the funds of the Society shall be one dollar, to be paid on or before the 1st of May in each year, and that no person be admitted to any of the privileges of a member unless his annual subscription be paid on or before that day.

(Signed,) Thomas Nixon, Foreman, John D. Wilcox, Coroner.

Fire of the convicts tried to escape from Sing Pénitentiary on the ice, in the Hudson river. Four of them were shot, of whom two are mortally wounded.

Article XX.—But whenever the funds of this Society are united with the funds of one of the Township Societies in the same

Electoral District, the members of the Township Society shall for that year be entitled to compete at the exhibitions held by this Society.

ARTICLE XXI.—That the exhibitions of this Society shall not be held in the same place for two consecutive years.

of the credit of the future prosperity of the country. I believe you will find that the expenses has been used in the expenditure of the expenses entailed on the Executive Government, that effectual supervision over the public accounts, has been maintained by the Board of Audit.

I have to ask of you in the present Session, such supplies as may be required for the public service.

HONORABLE GENTLEMEN and Peers.

Correspondence in relation to the Hudson's

Bay Company and its territory, will be laid before you, as well as an answer to your address presented to Her Most Gracious Majesty on the subject of the Seat of Government. On the first of these subjects it will be for you to consider the propositions made by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for the Colonies to the Company, and to weigh the merit of these propositions on the interests and rights of Canada. Papers will also be submitted to you showing clearly the views taken by the Provincial Government for the insertion of those interests and rights, and for the future independence of the Province.

I now leave you to the perusal of your ATTY. GEN. MACDONALD—(carrying out the order which requires that some act on the part of the Legislature shall intercede between the Governor's Speech and fixing a day for its consideration)—moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the administration of oaths to persons appointed to be Justices of the Peace.

Leave being granted, the Bill was read a first time, and ordered to be read a second time this day fortnight.

ATTY. GEN. MACDONALD then moved that his Excellency's Speech be taken into consideration on Monday next. He hoped that any amendments to be proposed would be distributed in sufficient time beforehand.

Mr. Brown said that the Opposition would endeavor to have their amendments printed in time for distribution on Monday morning; but if they could not accomplish this, it might be necessary to claim a day's delay.

ATTY. GEN. MACDONALD.—“Certainly.”

The motion was then agreed to.

ATTY. GEN. MACDONALD moved that the Speech and proceedings of the House be printed, having been first perused by Mr. Speaker, and that no person, but such as he shall appoint shall presume to print the same.—Carried.

ATTY. GEN. MACDONALD moved that the use of Standing Committees of the House be appointed.

MR. MACKENZIE thought it was necessary that the present Parliament should dispense with rules of procedure, instead of accepting the old rules as a matter of course.

The motion was then agreed to.

MR. BROWN, in reference to the resolution which had just been passed, suggested the proposal of appointing a Committee to consider and revise the rules of the House.

MR. MACKENZIE thought it was necessary

that the present Parliament should dispense with rules of procedure, instead of accepting the old rules as a matter of course.

MR. BROWN thought it was a matter of course.

MR. BROWN, in reference to the resolution
